When was the collection made? Would this have influenced the style of the collection?

Why do you think he chose these silhouettes? And what does it suggest to you?

What similarities can you see in the three garments above, how can you tell they are from the same collection?

What differences can you see between the garments above? What do you think has influenced these differences?

How has Van Herpen used colour?

Given the title of the collection, what could his use of colour be suggesting?

Do you like/dislike the work? Why?

If you were to recreate a similar garment, what materials, techniques and processes would you use?
